Makers

Editor & Art Direction: Blue Mitchell

Design Concepts: Brent Veak

Assistant Editor: Elizabeth Kale

Contributors: Zeb Andrews, Jeffrey Baker, Tina Maas, Pamela Petro, Sika Stanton, Dr. Mike Ware, Plates to Pixels Gallery with Christina Z. Anderson

Interviews conducted by Blue Mitchell

Published by One Twelve Publishing, LLC

diffusionmag.com

On the cover:
Anna-Louise
by Tina Maas

Features

6 I am often asked...
by Zeb Andrews
Zeb Andrews reveals the "what's" and "why's" of his zero image pinhole camera, examines the illusion of motion, and divulges his photographic purpose.

10 An Ironic Manifesto
by Dr. Mike Ware
Dr. Mike Ware gives us a brief photo history, outlines a variety of alternative processes, and discusses the paradigm of modern photography.

14 Profile: Jeffrey Baker
"spiritual rammifications"
Jeffrey Baker uses photography as a tool for large scale mixed media pieces. He shares his views about technology, spirituality, and the process of craft.

20 Profile: Tina Maas
"drawn to the beauty in decay"
Tina Maas dives deep into a transitory photo process, details the meaning of her Ophelia series and her desire to create something unique.

24 Profile: Pamela Petro
"nature recycles everything, even us"
Pamela Petro explores installations of rocks and cairns embedded with human identity—amplified by the cycle of thought, nature, and life.

27 Profile: Sika Stanton
"The human impulse to see"
Sika Stanton creates moody modern tintype portraits. She scribes to us about cheap instant photography contrasted with alternative photographic processes.

30 Formerly & Hereafter
Plates to Pixels Gallery
- 2nd International Juried Exhibition
- Juried by Christina Z. Anderson
- "photography is very much alive"

I Hate You by Courtney McManus

I had made up my mind about it well before you had even opened your mouth to make the suggestion. As you closed the door, I wanted to tell myself. "I hate you for this."