RECIPIENT NAME: Malin Fabbri, editor of AlternativePhotography.com
ADDRESS: Vikingagatan 10, 113 42 Stockholm, Sweden

Dear Artist:

I am preparing a book provisionally titled Encyclopedia of anothotype emulsions and one provisionally titled World Anothotype Day 2022 entries: Hope to be published in 2022 by AlternativePhotography.com, situated on the adress above. The format for both are an online database and/or gallery at AlternativePhotography.com, and an eBook in ePub and pdf format, and possibly a printed paperback.

I request permission to enter your submitted photographs in the online database and reprint them in the digital eBook and a printed book, in various formats, and also any future revisions, editions, adaptations, translations, abridgements or other derivative works thereof, for possible licensing and distribution throughout the world in all languages in all forms of media. If you do not control these rights in their entirety, please do not enter.

Proper acknowledgment of artist and copyright date will be given. For your convenience, you may simply sign the release form below.

You also agree that any person(s) in your photographs other than yourself has/have given you permission to photograph him/her/them and Malin Fabbri and AlternativePhotography.com are not held liable for his/her/their representation in print, lecture, website or other form of publication. This applies to any property that appears in the photographs as well, that may require permission to photograph.

I also agree to provide you with one free copy of the Work upon publication in e-book format. It will be sent to the email provided below.

Submitted photographs and requested credit lines (e.g Tulip, Title © Malin Fabbri, 2022)
